

NAME _____ DATE _____

EXCLAMATORY SENTENCES

An exclamatory sentence shows strong feeling. It helps to express love, anger, surprise happiness and other emotions. It ends with an exclamation mark (!)

An exclamatory sentence must have a subject.

An imperative sentence need not require a subject.

Examine the following sentences. Bubble the circles of the imperative sentences in red and exclamation sentences in green color.

Example:

A) What a lovely dress you have! ●

B) Don't wear that dirty dress. ●

1. How tired the child looks! ○

Take rest. ○

2. It's dangerous. Don't go there. ○

What a pleasant sight! ○

3. What an exceptional girl she is! ○

Don't be a naughty girl. ○

4. Wow! It is a brilliant idea! ○

Keep your mouth shut. ○